MBECT Pricing Tool Replacement

Along with the newest updates in production the Pricing Tool feature in MBECT is now available.

As a reminder, the Clinical Research Pricing Tool is disappearing October 1st so this is our opportunity for users to get accustomed to performing pricing searches in MBECT. Users familiar with searching for items in other areas of the application will see how similar this functionality is, but without the need to create other parts of your billing calendar. We still have one more training session scheduled so check out the details below in our "Training Continues" section.

Remember for pricing searches that:

- Searches can be exported to Excel from the right click menu.
- Pricing information is updated regularly so check back to make sure your data is current.
- Pricing information is proprietary and confidential, so share only the minimum information that is required with your sponsor.

Training Continues!
