New Platform Training Update

Many thanks to all of our users who have been coming to our overview sessions and providing us with valuable feedback about the training process! We've had a lot of users asking us how they can get their hands on the system and we have some options available:

- Come to one of our hands-on, scenario based training sessions! We'll walk you through the new system by entering mock trial
- Can't make it out? Play in the test system at your own work station! Email the help desk and ask to be added as a user in our sandbox environment.

data while pointing out new features and improvements along the way. To maximize your time, these sessions are geared toward users familiar with MBECT so first time users may find these sessions move a little fast.

Billing Calendar Overview

There's still one more chance! We are offering another overview session of the new platform with a demonstration of how to create a billing calendar and manage subject enrollment. No registration required!
